

CTC and CTC Foundation Support Flight 93 National Memorial

Both Concurrent Technologies Corporation (CTC) and its affiliate CTC Foundation are making lasting and significant contributions to the Flight 93 National Memorial in Shanksville, PA, which is less than 25 miles from CTC's headquarters in Johnstown, PA.

CTC Foundation, on behalf of CTC and its affiliates, donated $50,000 to the Flight 93 Memorial Fund, recognizing its importance to our nation as we mourn and heal after the tragic events of September 11, 2001.

In 2018, CTC President and CEO Edward J. Sheehan, Jr., was elected to serve on the Friends of Flight 93 National Memorial Board of Directors, the nonprofit partner of Flight 93 National Memorial. Sheehan is contributing his professional expertise to the organization, which focuses on awareness, education, volunteer support, preservation and stewardship. For details, visit www.flight93friends.org.

The walkway at the Memorial Plaza extends a quarter mile from the shelter to the Wall of Names, paralleling the area where Flight 93 crashed on September 11, 2001. (Image from the Flight 93 National Memorial