National Defense Center for Energy and Environment Annual Report Wins Gold MarCom Award

Johnstown, PA, February 17, 2016 – An annual report created by Johnstown-based Concurrent Technologies Corporation for the National Defense Center for Energy and Environment (NDCEE) has won a Gold MarCom Award in the government publications category. MarCom Awards is an international creative competition that recognizes outstanding achievements by marketing and communication professionals.

The NDCEE was established to help Department of Defense (DoD) installations, ranges, weapon systems, and the warfighter achieve performance advantages, enhance efficiency and cost effectiveness, and comply with regulations. Its mission is to transition technology solutions in support of the DoD as it strives to maintain readiness, meet sustainability goals, and support warfighters at home and abroad.

“Concurrent Technologies Corporation is honored to be the Operating Contractor for the NDCEE since its inception, and we are very proud that our client’s Fiscal Year 2014 annual report has earned national recognition,” said Margo Neidbalson, Concurrent Technologies Corporation’s NDCEE Program Manager. “From 2011 through 2015, every NDCEE annual report that we produced has won a Gold MarCom Award. In 2010, we won an APEX Award.”

The lead author for the document is Donna Provance, and the publication was designed by Amy Stawarz. Neidbalson is the project manager.

MarCom Awards is administered and judged by the Association of Marketing and Communication Professionals. Judges for the international organization are industry professionals who look for companies and individuals whose talents exceed a high standard of excellence and whose work serves as a benchmark for the industry. The competition received about 6,500 entries from throughout the United States, Canada, and more than a dozen other countries.
